Abbott's due diligence measures

3.2 Identify and Assess Risk in the Supply Chain

We identified and surveyed suppliers who provide Abbott with parts, components, or materials likely to contain 3TG. We evaluated the responses we received to determine if the response was complete or if further engagement with the supplier was required. We attempted to engage suppliers who did not respond, provided an incomplete response, or provided inconsistent data within the CMRT. We have worked, and will continue to work, with these suppliers to obtain additional information to supplement their responses.

An important component of our supplier query process, and an element of the CMRT, is the identification of processing facilities or smelters used in the supply chain. As described below, we evaluated smelter information provided by our suppliers using information obtained through our membership in RMI. RMI is the leading#

3.4 Carry out Independent Third-Party Audit Supply Chain Due Diligence at Identified Points in the Sul

Similarly, based on our due diligence efforts, we do not have sufficient information to conclusively determine the country of origin of the 3TG contained in the parts, components, or materials actually supplied to Abbott.

We seek reasonable information about 3TG smelters and refiners and the mines or locations of origin of 3TG in our supply chain through the following efforts: supporting industry initiatives like the RMI through our membership; reviewing best practices established in the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) and other due diligence implementation programs; and requesting our suppliers to complete the CMRT, and evaluating supplier responses as described above.

Forward-looking Statements

Please note that forward-looking statements relating to Abbott's future plans are based on current expectations and assumptions, and are not intended to be guarantees. Our actual actions may differ from these forward-looking statements.
